Dear Parents,

The pandemic is still very much on our minds - you and us.

From Monday, January 24, 2022, there will be a different procedure than before in case of a positive self-test or PCR test by a person in connection with the facility.

The district has provided the attached prioritization letter.

According to this, if the self-test or PCR test is positive, the 10-day domestic quarantine will still be ordered by the health department. For more information on early free testing, exceptions and the end of quarantine, please refer to the prioritization letter.

The daycare centers no longer have to isolate the children who had contact with the person with the positive self-test or PCR test. This means that the children can take part in early and late shifts as usual.

Unfortunately, however, we are not always able to maintain opening hours due to the high number of staff absent due to illness. Every time we check exactly how many children of the respective age group and the remaining workers can ensure the worktime for how long. The duty of supervision must be guaranteed for your child. That's something you can rely on.

On behalf of all the employees of MenschensKinder Teltow, I would like to thank you for your trust and the positive way in which you have dealt with the situation so far.

However, if you have any questions, needs or problems, please contact the colleagues in the facilities or us in administration. We are here for you.

With best regards and wishing an easy time for all patients,

Yours Solveig Haller ,Manager
